

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF MICHIGAN
SOUTHERN DIVISION

---

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Plaintiff,

v.

Case No. 11-20312

GERELL MORGAN,

Defendant.

---

ORDER DENYING DEFENDANT'S MOTION TO POSTPONE SURRENDER

Defendant Morgan, having been sentenced on August 22, 2012, to serve a term of imprisonment of 86 months, moves to postpone the surrender date presently set for December 4, 2012. He argues that he has presented no problems to the Pretrial Services Department, and this appears to be true. He says that he wishes to spend more time, including the Christmas holiday season, with his family, and this is understandable.

A defendant's family ties are inevitably strained by imprisonment. Separation from society implies an inability to participate in countless other activities as well, a natural component of the penalty represented by imprisonment. Defendant has already enjoyed an inordinate reporting delay of more than three months since the date of sentencing, and no more is needed. Defendant will likely miss either six or seven Christmas holiday seasons during imprisonment. If freedom during the current season were afforded him by the court's order now, there would very likely be a season near the end of his imprisonment during which he will concomitantly remain incarcerated.

Accordingly,

IT IS ORDERED that the motion to postpone surrender [Dkt. # 65] is DENIED.
